Art Unit: 1755

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-92 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a and b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Duselis et al. '248 B1, Gleeson et al. '697 B2, Merkley et al. 745 B2, Duselis et al. '146 B1, Barrable '335 or '555, Leture et al. '743, Chase '967, JP 01318080 (Motomura-abstract only), or JP 2001028492 (Tamai et al.). abstract only

All of the above cited references teach compositions containing cement, aggregate, and calcium silicate hydrate thus anticipating the instant invention. Even if not anticipated, overlapping ranges of amounts would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. (See respective claim pages and abstract).

Further, the applicants' process would appear to be routine mixing and curing of the cement components within the teaching of the prior art thus also anticipating and/or rendering applicants' process prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Art Unit: 1755

Claims 1-92 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-72, 1-45, 1-52, and 1-78 of U.S. Patent Nos. 6,506,248 B1 (Duselis et al.), 6,572,697 B2 (Gleeson et al.), and 6,676,745 B2 (Merkley et al.)^{and 6,346,146 B1 (Duselis et al.)}. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all teach a product comprising cement, aggregate, and calcium silicate hydrate and overlapping ranges of amounts would have at least been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. It is also noted that it would appear the assignee of the instantly claimed invention is James Hardie Research Pty Limited from Australia which is also the same as the patents of the obviousness type double patenting rejection.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-92 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as failing to set forth the subject matter which applicant(s) regard as their invention.

Art Unit: 1755

The term "low density calcium silicate hydrate" is vague and indefinite. How is low density calcium silicate hydrate different than simply calcium silicate hydrate? It would appear they are exactly the same. Further, low density is a relative and indefinite term because it does not relate a range of what is considered low.
